Leo M. Frank's Death Penalty Is Commuted

Georgia's Governor Thinks There Is Room for Doubt And Says In Statement Giving Reasons for His Action, That Feeling as He Does, He Would be a Murderer To Have Allowed the Convicted Young Jew To Go to His Death Tomorrow

CROWDS GATHERED IN THE STREETS OF ATLANTA

After News of the Commutation Had Been Announced, But the Prisoner Had Been Secretly Removed Early In the Morning to the State Prison Farm in the Country—One of the Most Famous Cases in the Criminal Jurisprudence of the United States Has Another Chapter Added—Excitement in Atlanta Caused Order to Be Issued Closing Saloons.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Atlanta, June 21.—Leo M. Frank's death sentence was commuted to life imprisonment today by Governor Slaton.

Announcement of the governor's decision several hours after Frank had been secretly taken from the jail and hurried to the state prison farm at Milledgeville. Frank was sentenced to be hanged here tomorrow for the murder of Mary Phagan in April, 1913.

Governor Slaton was still at his country home when he announced his decision. In making the announcement the governor dictated the following brief statement:

"All I ask is that the people of Georgia read my statement of the reasons why I commuted Leo M. Frank's death sentence to life imprisonment before they pass judgment."

"Feeling as I do about this case, I would be a murderer if I allowed this man to hang. It means that I must live in obscurity the rest of my days, but I would rather be plying in a field than to feel for the rest of my life that I had that man's blood on my hands."

Governor Slaton was completing a long statement giving his reasons for his action, and thus, he said, would be made public.

The first official announcement of the governor's decision was made at 8:42 o'clock this morning. Extra editions of the local newspapers containing the announcement, caused considerable excitement among crowds of men, who gathered on various street corners. Mounted police and patrolmen were stationed on the outskirts of the crowd and at least one arrest was made.

Comment disapproving the decision was heard in the gatherings.

In his statement exhaustively explaining his reasons for commuting Frank's sentence, Governor Slaton reviewed the circumstances surrounding the murder of Mary Phagan in the National Pencil factory, here the conviction of Frank and his appeal for clemency.

Continuing the statement reads: "The murder was a most heinous one and the offender deserves the punishment of death. The only question is as to the identity of the criminal. The responsibility is upon the people of Georgia to protect the lives of her citizens and to maintain the dignity of her laws and if the choice must be made between the probability of citizens of other states and the enforcement of our laws against offenders we must choose the latter alternative.

"It is charged that the court and jury were terrorized by a mob that the jury were coerced into their verdict. When Frank was indicted and the air was filled with rumors as to the murder and mutilation of the girl, there was intense feeling and to such extent that my predecessor, Governor Brown, stated in argument before me that he had the military ready to protect the defendant if any attack was made.

"Some weeks later the defendant was put on trial."

The governor then referred to Georgia's laws relating to change of venue declaring these provisions most broad in behalf of the defendant to insure a fair trial. Frank, he said, went on trial without asking a change of venue and submitted his case to a jury that was acceptable to him.

"During the progress of the trial, the statement continues, 'after the evidence had been introduced laying the crime with many offensive details upon Frank, the feeling against him became intense. If the audience in the court room manifested their deep resentment toward Frank, it was largely by this evidence, beyond the court's power to correct. It would be difficult for an appellate court or a trial court to grant a new trial in such a long case, because the audience in the court room on a few occasions indicated their sympathies.

"The jury found the defendant guilty and with exception of the demonstrations outside the court room there was no disorder. Nothing was done which the court could correct through legal machinery."

The governor pointed out that the United States supreme court had sustained this ruling. He declared the charge against the state of Georgia of racial prejudice was unfair. He then reviewed the evidence. He asserted the state proved that Frank was in his office at the factory a little.

GOVERNMENT IS DEFRAUDED BY OLEO MAKERS

OF APPROXIMATELY $27,000,000 ACCORDING TO ONLY A PRELIMINARY EXAMINATION

Officials Conducting a Rigid Examination With View of Bringing in Offenders to Justice.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, June 21.—With a preliminary investigation before him today showing violation of the oleomargarine law, extending over the entire 13 years since the enactment of the law and resulting in the loss of many millions of dollars in revenue to the government, secretary McAdoo announced that although fraudulent practices of this character probably have been checked, the inquiry would be continued with all vigor. Treasury officials, it was said, are determined "to bring every law breaker to justice."

The investigation was conducted by Commissioner Osborn of the internal revenue bureau. It was sweeping in character with ramifications in many parts of the country. Commissioners' report revealed how violators of oleomargarine law had defrauded the government out of at least $27,000,000 due in stamps and special taxes.

Among the more important results of the investigation were:

Recovery of $871,000 in unpaid taxes, "with prospects of further very large collections."

Confession since January 1 of forty-two violators of the law, 29 of whom were given prison sentences.

Assessment of fines aggregating $148,000 in addition to the recoveries actually made.

The report shows, according to a statement issued by Secretary McAdoo, that since 1902 more than 200,000,000 pounds of colored oleomargarine was manufactured and fraudulently sold as uncolored oleo.

"It is believed," says the statement, "that a great proportion of this product reached consumers as butter. This amount represents more than twice the average yearly consumption of both colored and uncolored oleo by the people of the United States since the present law went into effect."

The new loan will be put out at par and will bear 4-1/2 per cent. interest.

Peace Outlook Brighter For Mexico, as Agent Is Expected In Washington

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, June 21.—Rumors of a new peace move by prominent Mexicans with General Felipe Angeles formerly Villa's artillery chief as its moving spirit, held the attention of officials here today.

Various reports from the border said Angeles had crossed into the United States, but none agreed, as to his mission. Border agents of the government reported that he was on his way to Boston to visit his family. Unofficial advice from El Paso said that Angeles was enroute to Washington to represent the military and that Miguel Diaz Lombardo, foreign minister, would reach the border in a few days on his way to Washington to represent the constitutional civil government in the new peace plan.

The reasons for Angeles' mission brought considerable speculation in diplomatic quarters today. One version was that it was to confer with Mexicans who have taken no part in the revolutionary activity, but who recently have been planning to form a coalition with some of the forces now in the field to enable them to set the "active and moral support" which President Wilson recently announced the United States would soon give some group, unless the warring factions could agree among themselves. Another explanation was that Angeles had left Villa because of personal differences with him.

Although officials are watching too closely changes in Mexican politics, they are taking no hand in the developments. They are hopeful, however, that out of the developments, peace may ultimately come.

Officials were greatly relieved today over unofficial advice which said the armored cruiser Colorado, Admiral Guaymas' flagship, had arrived at Guaymas with supplies and that all was quiet in the Yaqui valley where the Indians had been threatened by the military commandant, now ordered to protect Americans, if necessary, but Admiral Howard has orders to await further instructions.

GOVERNOR WILLIS HAS ACCEPTED RESIGNATIONS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, June 21.—Governor Willis today accepted the resignations of S. A. Hoskins and Charles L. Brown, members of the state civil service commission, tendered last Friday. That of Mr. Hoskins is to take effect July 15 and that of Mr. Brown at some time in the future "at the pleasure of the governor." It was said Governor Willis will announce a successor to Mr. Hoskins before leaving for a month's trip to San Francisco tomorrow.

CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSIONER BRYSON DEFIES WILLIS

TO FILE ANY CHARGES

And Has Thus Far Refused to Resign His Position—Ohio Executive Had Intended to Leave Tuesday for Official Trip to the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, Ohio, June 21.—Governor Willis may postpone his western trip for a few days or a week on account of pressure of appointments and the desire to oust members of state commissions who failed to comply with his request that they resign, the governor said today. He had intended to start tomorrow.

After inspecting his morning mail and finding no other resignations, Governor Willis announced he might remain in Columbus this week. The refusal of Charles H. Bryson, member of the civil service commission to resign, and his defiance of the governor to file charges against him, was said to be the principal reason for this change of plan. The governor said the prospective deadlock with Mr. Bryson was "not the only feature" which might require his further presence here.

He indicated that before he leaves he would appoint an industrial commissioner to succeed M. B. Hammond, whose term expires June 30, and possibly a fire marshal to succeed E. F. Dettelbaugh, a superintendent of public works to succeed J. I. Miller and a civil service commissioner to succeed Samuel A. Hoskins, who resignation to take effect July 15, was accepted by the governor today. He declared he would not announce the appointment of the ten members of the new board of agriculture until he returns from the western trip.

The resignation of Charles I. Brown, civil service commissioner, although accepted today, will not take effect until such time as the governor desires. It was reported he would serve until the new commission of two members under the Barnes-Moore bill is appointed.

THAW'S MOTHER IS ON HAND TO ATTEND TRIAL

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, June 21.—Mrs. Mary Copely Thaw, mother of Harry K. Thaw was here today to attend the opening tomorrow of the hearing to determine whether Thaw is now sane and entitled to freedom. Mrs. Thaw arrived yesterday from Pittsburgh. She expressed confidence that her son would prove to justice Hendricks and a jury that he is sane.

Thaw was in a buoyant mood as he greeted his mother when she visited him in the Ludlow street jail.

Many of the witnesses for Thaw are already here. Among them are Sheriff Drew, of Coos county, N. H., who was Thaw's custodian when the fugitive was in the state; Del Stevens, a policeman of Colebrook, N. H., and two members of the federal commission appointed in New Hampshire which decided that Thaw was sane when in that state.

Kaiser Is Now In Command Of German Forces

And Will Conduct the Operations In Galicia, Leading Up To the Capture of Lemberg, Which Is Now Regarded As Such a Foregone Conclusion that the Generals Who Have Conducted the Campaign Wish Emperor to Participate In the Triumph

NEW VICTORIES OF TEUTONS IN EAST AND WEST GALICIA

Failure of Russians to Hold Austro-Germans In Check Has Been a Keen Disappointment to the British, Who Expected Another Demonstration of the Resiliency of Emperor Nicholas' Forces—Complete Rout of Russian Army As Reported From Vienna is Not Believed Fully, However—French Report Some Further Progress In the Western Arena of War.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, June 21.—The announcement that Emperor William has assumed supreme command of the operations in Galicia is interpreted here as an indication of complete German confidence in the final victory of the assault on Lemberg, now regarded as so near at hand that the generals who, during the last two months, have battered their way across the province, wish the emperor to participate personally in the expected triumph.

Some of the claims put forward by the Germans and Austrians have still to be substantiated, but there is no question that they have won new victories both west and north of Galicia capital.

The Austro-German advance is still progressing through the Grodok lines west of Lemberg. The failure of the Russians to hold these positions has been a keen disappointment to the British, who hoped that this strong and selected position might furnish another example of the resiliency of Emperor Nicholas' forces which has been one of the marked features of the war in the east.

Nevertheless it is questioned here that anything so vital as the tight of the Russian army as indicated by Vienna reports or a serious break in the Russian front has occurred. Some British experts are of the opinion that the Russians are fighting rear guard actions while withdrawing their armies practically intact. They suggest that either the Russians have no intention of defending Lemberg to the last, or have prepared their main defensive lines on positions not yet reached by the Germanic forces. With less than a score of miles separating the Austro-German lines from Lemberg, these points must soon be elucidated.

It is pointed out further by British observers that the latest Russian communications hardly indicate such an overwhelming success as their opponents claim, although it is admitted that the battery of the Teutonic army has won further ground.

French and German accounts of operations in the western theater of war show the usual divergencies, but the detailed reports from Arras satisfy the British that their allies are making such an advance as will shortly permit more active operations in the shore occupied by the British army.

The French advance north of Arras, it is thought here, must have pushed the Germans into a narrow front which will render some of their masses of troops comparatively ineffective.

The gains in Alsace show that the French are drawing close to the area of permanent German fortifications.

The arrival at the bedside of Sultan Mohammed of Prof. Adolf Israel, the German specialist, indicates that earlier reports that the Sultan was suffering with a mild attack of catarrh did not show his real condition. "The fact that the Sultan was unable to make his customary Friday visit to the mosque last week showed that his illness was not slight, as such an omission is considered justified only by extreme necessity."

Professor Dismissed From Pennsylvania

Assistant Professor Scott Nearing

The trustees of Pennsylvania University have created a sensation by the removal of Assistant Professor Nearing of the Wharton School of Finance. This has been done because he preached doctrines of political economy not in harmony with the beliefs of those who control the institution. The professor had been warned some time ago that he would get into trouble with his writings, but he chose to go on. Now it is charged that the trustees who took this action were supporters of the regime of bosses who have attempted more or less successfully to control Pennsylvania politics.

CONVICT HELD FOR DEATH OF WARDEN'S WIFE

NEGRO "TRUSTY" SUSPECTED OF HAVING CREMATED WOMAN'S BODY IN BED

After Having Crushed Her Head, in Joliet Penitentiary—Victim Was Formerly an Actress.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Joliet, Ills., June 21.—A negro trusty, a product of the "Honor system" among convicts at the state penitentiary was held in solitary confinement today pending investigation of the murder of Mrs. Edmund M. Allen, wife of the prison warden, whose body, fearfully burned was found on a blazing bed in her apartments yesterday.

Joseph Campbell convicted of killing a negro in Chicago five years ago and sentenced to serve an indeterminate sentence of from one year to life, with the convict under guard. So far as known, Campbell chosen as the Allen's personal servant under the honor system, is the last person to have seen Mrs. Allen alive. Campbell is one of the five trusted convicts who had access to the warden's apartments.

Officials believe Mrs. Allen was burned to death as she lay unconscious on her bed as her skull had been fractured by a blow which had caused her death. Evidence already gathered indicated that the slayer had sprinkled the bedding and Mrs. Allen's night clothing with alcohol before touching a match to it. Pieces of a rug which had contained the liquid were found scattered near the bed.

The fire, which possibly was confined to the bed, apparently had (Continued on Page 7, Col. 5.)

How Mrs. Hurley Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Eldon, Mo. — "I was troubled with displacement, inflammation and female weakness. For two years I could not stand on my feet long at a time and I could not walk two blocks without enduring cutting and drawing pains down my right side which increased every month. I was nervous, and had very little appetite, no ambition, melancholy, and often felt as though I had not a friend in the world. After I had tried most every female remedy without success, my mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and gained in strength every day. I have now no trouble in any way and highly praise your medicine. It advertises itself." — Mrs. S. T. HURLEY, Eldon, Missouri.

Babylonians Feared Ghosts.

In a lecture on "Burial Customs In Mesopotamia and Egypt" Dr. L. W. King, F. S. A., said the spirit which animated the Egyptians in their varied and changing practices toward the dead was based on affection and reverence, but the Babylonian, in the main, was prompted by fear. The Babylonians were probably more spook ridden than any other nation of antiquity, and their magical texts made it clear that the most terrible class of spirits were the ghosts of the dead, who for some reason had been unable to enter the underworld. Driven by hunger and thirst, such a ghost might roam about and fasten on any one with whom it had had relations in this life, and it would plague him until he performed the rites that could give it peace. It was mainly to lay the ghost and prevent it from "haunting" that the Babylonians were scrupulous in performing the due burial rites. — London Times.

UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT GIVES DECISIONS

"GRANDFATHER CLAUSES" RESTRICTING NEGRO VOTE ARE UNCONSTITUTIONAL.

Government Loses Its Contention in Oregon Land Case—Harvester Case Not Yet Decided.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, June 21.—The supreme court today reversed the federal district court in New Jersey which dismissed the government's Sherman law and commodities clause suit against the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad and the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Coal Co.

The government charged that the contract by which the railroad sold to the coal company its coal was not a bona fide transaction and violated both the anti-trust law and the commodities clause of the Hepburn rate law.

It is the second suit of the government against the railroad under the commodities clause.

Constitutionality of the Illinois pure food law prohibiting in effect the sale of a food preservative containing the acid was upheld today by the supreme court.

The Oklahoma constitutional "grandfather clause" restricting the negro vote was today annulled as unconstitutional by the supreme court.

The court held that Oklahoma had not meant to provide a literary test for its voters, if the restriction as to those qualified to vote in 1866 was illegal and hence struck down the test, although holding that standing alone such a test was constitutional. The decision was unanimous.

Chief Justice White announced the decision holding that it was a violation of the 15th amendment to select an arbitrary date such as 1866 in fixing the qualification of voters. The decision is believed to reach "grandfather clause" legislation in many southern states.

The "grandfather clause" of the Annapolis, Md., election statute was annulled as unconstitutional today by the supreme court.

The supreme court today decided to review the decision of the customs board holding that the five per cent discount on imports in American bottoms provided in the Underwood Simmons act extends also to goods imported in ships or favored nation treaty countries.

The government today lost its suit in the supreme court to forfeit the unsold portion of the Oregon and California railroad land grant, amounting to some 2,300,000 acres and valued at more than $30,000,000.

The railroad company is enjoined, however, from future sale in violation of the conditions of the grant, until congress has reasonable time to act.

The supreme court today reconsidered its denial of a review of the conviction of F. Drew Cammett, of San Francisco, on charges of violating the white slave law, and granted a review. It also granted a review of the conviction of Maury L. Dicks, convicted with Cammett, in the same cases.

The International Harvester Co., anti-trust company, was today restored to the docket for re-argument by the supreme court. This postpones a decision until fall at least.

The supreme court adjourned today for the summer without deciding the International Harvester, Oregon, minimum wage and other important cases pending. It will not meet again until October.

STOPPED RUNAWAY TEAM.

A team hitched to a street sprinkling wagon ran away Saturday afternoon, starting in West Church street, near Fifth. It ran to Fourth street, south to Main and east on Main, before it was brought to a stop. Hugh Larson, hydrant repair man for the fire department, seized the bit of one of the horses as the team passed the Central fire station, and succeeded in bringing the animals to a stop in front of the Schaller cafe in West Main street. Just before the team was stopped, it ran into a wagon hitched near the curb, knocked the horse off its feet, but no damage was done.

HOPEFUL FLOOD CONDITIONS.

Kansas City, June 21.—While the Kansas continued to rise the local weather bureau took a hopeful outlook on the flood situation. Unless there are further heavy rains the observer said, danger of serious damage had passed. The Kansas river here stood at 24.7 feet this morning.

Mummies of Peru.

Before taking leave of Cuzco, Peru, we went to see the very interesting collection of Inca relics in the private museum of a Peruvian doctor who has devoted many years of his life to Inca research. Ranged round the walls were mummies which had been taken from rock tombs. All had been buried in a sitting posture, and judging by the horrible expressions of agony on the parchment skin, I should imagine that some of them, prisoners of war, I was told, had been entombed alive. The horror of the mummies' faces and the awful contortions of the skeletons haunted me for a long time, nor shall I ever forget the sight.

One or two of the skulls bore evidence of skillful surgery, star shaped pieces of bone having been cleverly fitted in to repair damage done by the star shaped stone weapons of the period. I did not measure those I saw in the museum, but one of the aforesaid stone weapons which we brought back to England from Cuzco measured four inches from point to point across the top—a truly formidable club.—Wide World Magazine.

Dr. Wiley is America's greatest authority on foods and food values. In a recent magazine article he said: "I think you can live on wheat alone in the form of whole wheat products, but not on white flour alone. Milk is the wheat of the infant, and wheat is the milk of the adult. Indian corn, because of the amount of zein it contains, is not so well suited for growing animals as wheat."

Frank's Life Saved.

The governor of Georgia announced this morning that he had commuted the sentence of death passed upon Leo M. Frank, who had been convicted of murdering Mary Phagan, a factory girl yet in her teens, two years ago.

This case has been one of the famous murder mysteries of recent times, and its history is so well known as to need no repetition. Seven attempts have been made to get a new trial through the state courts; the federal district court and the supreme courts of the United States refused a writ of habeas corpus; four times the man was sentenced to death, and the date of execution was finally set for tomorrow.

Though the case reached the highest court of the land only one court passed upon the evidence and the judge at that trial expressed doubt about the prisoner's guilt.

Upon the very eve of his execution the executive of the state has exercised his constitutional right, which is also an arbitrary one from which there is no appeal, and the death penalty was commuted to life imprisonment.

All that now remains is the question as to the righteousness, justice, and cogency of the reasons that actuated Governor Slaton. He gave them in a statement this morning, and it can not be disputed that they are reasons that appeal to every sense of humanity and mercy of which the human soul is capable. There is a strain of nobility in his action which commands respect, as he reviews what he considers to be his duty, and in doing that duty voluntarily relegates himself to oblivion, if need be.

The crime itself was a most heinous one, and the perpetrator deserves death. There was no question of motive or excuse for its commission, that entered into the trial. But the great mystery was, the identity of the person who did it. There were no witnesses to testify they had seen the crime; Frank maintained his innocence and through the long ordeal since his arrest has maintained his composure. His manner and his statements in open court have convinced many people of his innocence. Aside from the testimony of a young colored fellow who has been sent to prison the evidence against Frank was circumstantial.

Thousands of people who have followed the case believe Frank innocent, and in recent weeks a perfect flood of telegrams and letters from every section of the country asking for commutation fell upon the governor of Georgia.

The sentiment outside of Georgia seems to be favorable to Frank, while the feeling in Atlanta and through Georgia is decidedly hostile.

Our Reply to Germany.

So cool tempered, so sweetly reasonable in its orderly recital of principles and facts as they are (rather than as Von Tirpitz and the kaiser would like to rearrange them)—is this indeed the famous note that drove Bryan from the state department, victim of his own high virtue? There is more law, less literature, in the note to Germany signed Lansing than in the note upon which Lansing and Bryan and Wilson all three collaborated—the last one to be signed by Bryan's name. Yet surely it was not because of any deficiency in the wording that Bryan refused to sign the document dispatched on June 10. And neither was it because of any newly discovered violence of intention—for the note could hardly have been made more gentle without seeming to back down from the stern restraint of the earlier correspondence. Nothing is to be added to or subtracted from our government's actual policy, so far as we can see. The president is as right as rain in standing by his earlier declarations. Behind him stands the nation, grave in sentiment, but no graver than the president himself. The country is like the president in seeking no war, but in feeling something more than indignation at Germany's naval policy, directed against neutrals and non-combatants and bolstered up for diplomatic purposes by a witness charged with perjury in our courts. The greater part of the nation shares, too, Mr. Wilson's wondering pity at Bryan's muddled thinking. We hear occasional criticisms of the president on the score that he has not used a more urgent tone in his latest communications with Berlin. These criticisms are as unjust as Mr. Bryan's for the president obviously wishes to gain his point and America's by peaceful persuasion, not by bluster or bloodshed. The president never seemed a greater statesman nor a more worthy type of Americanism at its best than today, with his clear-headedness and honest facing of the facts known in relief by Bryan's vague surmises. Unfortunately however, what we do or President Wilson does is not alone in determining the issue of peace.

It is the men at the head of the German government think their interests will be aided by war with the United States; they will bring on war. If they think they will be injured by war with us, they will avoid war. Flabby weakness on our part will not insure our safety, nor does the president's stand endanger us half so much as has Bryan's somnambulism.

The Awe of Death.

(Columbus Sunday Dispatch.)

Death is as familiar as life. It is as natural that one should die as it is that he should live. No one seeks to escape the inevitable; all know that sooner or later all must perish. We set aside parks in which to bury our dead, and enter a commercial pursuit in taking care of the ceremonies of putting away forever those who pass away. And still death is the most awe-inspiring thing in the world.

Men who are afraid of nothing in life, fear death, and feel uncomfortable in its presence. We surround the corpse with a sort of superstitious horror. We are shocked every time we behold those who have ceased to live. We are appalled when we meet death face to face, or even when we are called upon to stand beside the bier of some one whom we have known. No one likes to be alone with the dead; many are stricken with fear when they are even in the presence of the dead. Only those who have had much to do with deceased persons can be natural when there is the evidence of death about.

We do not know why it should be so, but it is so. We do not know why the sight of a dead person should cause alarm, or bring about a mental depression. We do not know why death should be spoken of as being horrible. Anything that is as natural as death, that is as inevitable, that has been such a frequent visitor to every community—anything that is expected and will come—should not arouse uneasiness or fear. But it does; that's the point.

TAKE A LOOK IF YOU HAVE TIME

About the only difference is that the people in a small town call it a "social" and those in the city a "reception."

Some of the Colonels fought in the war. But most of them earned their titles serving their country in the capacity of an auctioneer.

A farmer judges a dog by the service it performs, a town man by the number of points it scores at the dog show.

The parade seems to be more firmly entrenched than ever before. The circuses have gone back to it and it never was abolished so far as weddings are concerned.

The books say that no man over 42 ever has appendicitis. But most of us would take the risk for the privilege of being under 48.

As a general proposition, a trip through a railway folder is more enjoyable than one over the road itself.

Spirit of the Press

Beet Sugar Industry.

One or two beet sugar factories closed as soon as the Underwood tariff was enacted. Most of them were conducted with more sense. The practice of biting off your nose to spite your face is not commended by business experience. Early in the spring one of the biggest of the sugar beet concerns made its annual report showing an unusually successful season last year. And now the Department of Agriculture reports the present acreage as 28 per cent. greater than of a year ago and the prospective yield 10.6 tons of roots per acre. The farmers will get something like $60 an acre for their beets, more likely over than below it. While the expense of cultivation is considerable, it is an uncommonly profitable crop when there is a factory at hand.—Philadelphia Record.

Chicago Strike.

Thanks to the initiative and determination of Mayor Thompson of Chicago the street railway men's strike in that city has come to an end in a little over 48 hours after it was begun and the issue with the employees is to go to arbitration. This is a happy and fortunate development for all concerned directly as well as for the community at large and the country. It will be hoped generally that the outcome may be such as to commend the principle of arbitration and to vindicate the intrepidity and inflexible purpose of Mayor Thompson.—Pittsburg Gazette Times.

A New Word.

A new word has come to town. Some write and pronounce it "pacifist." Others write and pronounce it "pacifist." There is no such word in the dictionaries but we all know what is meant—a person who wants peace and works for it. In other days, not so remote, Germans and Filipinos of that disposition were called "pacifists" pronounced pa-thee-fos. That word was easy, for it had good terminal facilities, but it isn't so with this "pacifist." As we can have it either way, why not choose the shorter and "pacifist"?—Columbus Dispatch.

It's Worth It!

We take this challenge of philosophy from the trade paper called "The Transmitter," published in Baltimore: A mathematician figures it out that a telephone company loses 125 hours' work every day through the use of the word "please" by operators. Well, why not? Courtesy is not an expense in business or in any other art of life, but a necessity. We all have to live with other people.—Collier's in June 26.

Task for the Censor.

Belgian aviators have been literally dropping a line to their countrymen to let them know that Italy has entered the war with the allies. This is the sort of dissemination of news which the German censors will find it difficult to regulate.—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Point of View.

Whether an experience should be regarded as misfortune or a lesson usually depends on the person—Judge.

Path May Prove Rough.

Roumania has ordered 1,000,000 pairs of shoes for army use. Obviously Roumania proposes to walk right over the enemy.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Sorting Apples.

One reason why the apples grown in the North Pacific states have captured so much of the market along the Atlantic seaboard and in Europe is because of the uniformity and reliability of the product. Sorting, packing and shipping have been standardized. An ideal has been set up and then realized, and the grower, carrier and consumer all profit by the fact. Now California growers and shippers of the ripe olive are setting about doing the same thing for their crop; and the outcome will doubtless be similar.—Christian Science Monitor.

"Another nation takes up arms," and trades its peace for war's alarms, and all of war's atrocity; why do all countries wish to scrap and thus incarnate the map? They have of sense a paucity. The latest comer to the fray is welcomed with a "Hi, ho, ho!" Come on! Thimble more merrier! The toe has blood that should be spilled, and hosts of men who should be killed, so dig in!

in like a terrier!" The farmer leaves his fields of grain, his useful labor, safe and sane, the smith becomes a warrior, from every trade and helpful art, for crimson fields the men depart—alas, the more the sorrier. What are the nations of the earth, that they forsake all things of worth, and wadding to the knees in gore, are piling dead on every shore, each moment growing scappier, each moment epidemic now, that every king will trade his plow for something he can slaughter with, that where the harvests used to grow, red Death is stalking to and fro, pale famine, his dread daughter, with? If I were king I would sit tight; I'd surely be "too proud to fight," though called an also ran again; if I had rude, rambunctious foes, I think I'd let them pull my nose before I'd start shenanigan.

HAMILTON—NEAL.

The wedding of Miss Mary Neal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Neal of North Fifth street, and Dr. Arthur Hamilton of Cleveland, took place at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Trinity Episcopal church, where for the past few years, the bride has been organist.

Palms and ferns, massed in profusion at the altar formed a screen of heavy foliage, for the placing of many beautiful white roses and clusters of hydrangeas. Intermingling with the flowers was the light of many candles. The pews were looped with white ribbon and two choir boys, Robert Garrison and Charles Allen, carried the ribbons for the aisle.

The members of the choir preceded the bride party and sang the Lohengrin bridal chorus, which was played by Miss Helen Maynard of Williamsport, Pa., who is now organist at the church.

The bride was attended by her sister, the matron of honor, Mrs. Howard L. Maddocks, and two little flower girls, Amy Brice Maddocks and Grace Wilson Lynn.

The bride's gown was of ivory tulle, with long train, and had the full length train. The bodice was covered with rare old rose point lace, which was given to the bride by her grandmother, Mrs. Mary Ellen Kibler, deceased. Orange blossoms, adorned the gown, and the veil, fashioned with pleated lace cap was worn with orange blossoms and the forehead bouquet was a shower arrangement of valley lilies and roses. The orange blossoms and veil of old lace worn by the bride were worn by her sister, Mrs. Howard Maddocks.

Mrs. Maddocks wore a costume of white crepe de chine embroidered in blue, and the large white hat was arranged with blue tulle and her bouquet was of pink roses.

The little maids who acted as flower girls were clad in frocks of white lingerie with sashes and bows of blue tulle, and their quaint little poke bonnet hats were of white tulle with clusters of variegated flowers. Their flower baskets were white, caught with tulle bows, and filled with delphinium and white swainsona. The bridegroom was attended by his best man, Mr. James Hamilton of Cleveland. Rev. L. P. Franklin, rector of the church, read the Episcopalian ring service and following the marriage a reception was held at the Neal home in North Fifth street.

Pink roses in profusion intermingling with hydrangeas, were used in the decorations and in the receiving line were Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. W. Neal, Mrs. Howard Maddocks, Mr. James Hamilton, Mrs. Gertrude Hamilton, mother of the bridegroom from Baltimore, Misses Edith and Margaret Hamilton of Baltimore, and Miss Nora Hamilton of New York.

Dr. and Mrs. Hamilton left for a bridal trip, the traveling gown of the bride being of dark blue faille silk with a black hat, and their at home cards read for after October 1 at 1934 East One Hundredth and Sixteenth street, Cleveland. During the summer months they will spend some time at Mackinac Island.

The bride has been actively engaged in church work. She was graduated from Denison University and was a member of Kappa Phi sorority, later she was graduated from Wellesley College, where she was a member of the Phi Sigma sorority. Mrs. Hamilton taught for two years in an Episcopal girls' school in Sioux Falls, S. D.

Dr. Hamilton was graduated from Harvard and received the degree of Ph.D. from Johns Hopkins University. He is a member of the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity and is instructor at Western Reserve University at Cleveland.

In Milady's Boudoir

BY GWEN BEARS.

If your face is badly wrinkled a fifteen minute massage each day will be necessary, but if there are only a few tiny lines, five minutes will suffice. Before manipulating the face it should be washed with hot, soapy water and a complexion brush. After it has been rinsed carefully and dried, the skin should be coated thickly with the following cream: White wax, one-half ounce; sweet almond oil, two ounces; lanolin, one ounce; spermaceti, one half ounce; coconut oil one ounce; tincture of benzoin, two drops; orangeflower water, one ounce. Place the first five ingredients in a double boiler and melt over a slow fire. When they are melted and mingled smoothly take from the fire and add the benzoin and orangeflower water. Duffing with an egg beater until cold. Then pour into small open mouthed jars ready for use.

The forehead lines should be massaged in a circular motion, using the finger tips of the right hand, and holding the skin tight with the thumb and forefinger of the left hand. Wrinkles surrounding the eyes should be treated carefully, as it is an easy matter to rub in more wrinkles than you can rub out. Place the first and second fingers on the nose, just above the eyes, and massage out beyond the eye corners, then sweep in underneath the eyes toward the nose. Use a very light pressure.

The cheeks should be massaged up from the point of the chin, using the palm of the hand. To efface the laughing wrinkles put the first and second fingers underneath the center of the lower lip. Then massage up beyond the corner of the mouth and up toward the nostril. Hollows under the chin and behind the ears should be massaged with a delicate rotary movement of the fingers. After the massage is completed wipe off the surplus cream and spray the face with the following astringent to make firm the relaxed tissue: Thirty drops benzoin thirty drops mucilage of acacia; one ounce limewater.

Your Boys and Girls

With a little carefulness, baby can be as safely weaned in summer as in any other season, unless he is in a very delicate condition and your physician advises against it. As a rule mother's milk is not sufficiently nourishing for baby twelve months old or more.

Wean him gradually, not suddenly. At first substitute one bottle feeding about midday. Give whole milk eight ounces, barley water two ounces. It is possible to persuade the baby to drink this from a spoon or cup. If he refuses then resort to the bottle. At the end of three or four days, if he seems well, give two bottles or cut feedings instead of one. At the end of a month or six weeks he will be weaned.

It is a mistake to withdraw the breast abruptly and give nothing but modified milk. This should be done only in case of emergency, or dangerous illness of the mother.

WARDEN HOTEL IS LEASED UNDER A NEW MANAGEMENT

Captain F. G. Warden, who since 1887 has been the owner of the hotel Warden, and until the past few years, proprietor of the hostelry, has leased the hotel to the firm of Roe & Curran of Troy, Pa., the lessees taking possession Sunday night at midnight.

The Warden is the oldest established first class hotel in the city, and from the management of Captain Warden, has extended his activities until he is the owner of a chain of hotels in various states. It is owing to the great number of his holdings which include large hotels in Chicago and Des Moines, Ia., that Mr. Warden decided to lease the Warden, as it is the smallest of the hotels owned by him.

For the past eighteen months the hotel has been managed by Mr. William P. Creeden, who came here from Mt. Vernon and who met with great success.

The new managers are Mr. A. F. Roe and Miss A. B. Curran. Miss Curran for several years was private secretary to Mr. Reist, proprietor of the Colonial Hotel at Troy, Pa., and she comes to Newark with much experience in hotel work. Mr. Roe, for several years was manager of the York Hotel at York, Pa., and for the past eight years has been assistant manager of the Colonial in the city of Troy.

The personnel of the employees will remain the same at the present, with the exception of Mr. Creeden, as Mr. Roe will, himself assume the personal management of the house and took possession in person Sunday night. Miss Curran will also be located here.

Mr. Creeden will remain for the week at the hotel, and will probably be transferred by Mr. Warden to another city, however he has had several excellent offers to locate in Newark.

FRENZY

STIRRED BY RELIGIOUS LECTURE WAS THE INDIRECT CAUSE OF MURDER

Man Was Told Not to Repeat a Similar Address and in Hotel Melee Was Shot to Death.

(Associated Press Telegram) Marshall, Texas, June 21.—Frank O'Leary, one of five Marshall men indicted for the murder here February 1915, of William Black, an anti-Catholic lecturer, was acquitted in district court here today on an instructed verdict. The state previously had sought dismissal of the case on the ground that there was not sufficient evidence to convict O'Leary. The defense insisted on a formal acquittal by a jury. O'Leary was not called on to make a statement.

(Associated Press Telegram) Marshall, Texas, June 21.—The case of Frank O'Leary charged with complicity in the killing of William Black, a lecturer against the Roman Catholic Church, who was shot here shortly before he was to deliver one of his lectures on the evening of February 3, 1915, was called for trial here today in the district court.

O'Leary was not present at the shooting, according to testimony at the examining trials last winter. The calling of his case first appeared to be due in chief to a desire to approach cautiously the legal aspects of the killing which attracted wide attention. The night before he was killed, Black had delivered a lecture in Marshall entitled "Romanism, a Menace to Civilization." He was to lecture again that night.

Marshall had been stirred by hand bills advertising Black's work. Black, 45 years old, born in Virginia, and said to bear kinship to General Robert E. Lee's family was advertised as "One who knows." The hand bills contained charges, cartoons and alleged oaths of the Knights of Columbus.

About supper time Black went to his hotel room, where he was joined by the other members of his party. Clarence F. Hall, of St. Paul, Minn., and Miss Sadie Black, a girl Black had adopted at her home in Arkansas a few days previously. Three Marshall men, John Rogers, John Copeland and George Ryan called on the Black party. According to testimony at the examining trials, all three callers were members of the Knights of Columbus. They asked Black not to deliver his second lecture. Black replied he would deliver it.

Shooting began and Black was shot near the heart and killed. Rogers also was killed and Copeland was shot three times. Indictments were returned charging murder against the following Marshall men: John Copeland, George Ryan, George Tier, Harry Winn and Frank O'Leary. Public testimony did not develop the circumstances of the alleged connection of Winn and O'Leary with the killing.

Clarence F. Hall of the Black party appeared before two grand juries but was not indicted.

She Didn't Have to Scrub Hospital Floors

Miss Nona McAdoo, Daughter of the Secretary of the Treasury.

Miss Nona McAdoo, daughter of William G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, did not have to scrub hospital floors in France. She was a nurse. They had regular scrub ladies there to scrub floors. Miss McAdoo was very indignant about the stories circulated from France when she stepped from the liner Rochambeau the other day. This photograph shows her leaving the ship.

"I'm no quitter," she told the reporters, "and don't think I left France because the work was too hard."

She was accompanied by her friend, Miss Katherine Britton. She was met down the bay by her father. The secretary also was anxious to clear his daughter of the charge of having left because of the hard work.

"Look at her," he said to the reporters. "She does not weigh a hundred pounds."

"I came back because rather ordered me to," said Miss McAdoo. "I never had to scrub floors. I was a nurse, and there were other people there to do the scrubbing. If I get back my health in time I shall return to the hospitals."

The men were arrested on board a scow in Burrard Inlet last night by a posse of officers after a chase by the police patrol boat. No resistance was encountered.

It was announced that a number of alien enemies had crossed the border into the United States recently and greater watchfulness would be maintained in the future to prevent similar escapes.

issues, including Union Pacific, Reading and United States Steel, lost substantial fractions.

The reaction became more marked by 11:00 o'clock, many active issues falling under last week's final figure. Later, however, these losses were relieved under renewed buying of war specialties. Baldwin Locomotive went to the new high record of 144 1/2. Bethlehem Steel came within a fraction of its record of 189 1/2, and Westinghouse General Electric and American Locomotive recorded gains of 1 to 2 1/2 over last Saturday. American Steel was strongest of the metals gaining three points. Union Pacific led the railway division, rising a point, and United States Steel changed hands in large blocks. Bullish followed this rally. Bonds were firm.

Germs irritate and enlarge the blood vessels, which creates piles

A new treatment for piles is a recent discovery of a New York Specialist. This remedy contains a powerful non-poisonous germicide and antiseptic which removes the cause that creates piles without inconvenience to the user of these suppositories.

By the use of Ridapile Cones relief is quickly obtained; pain banished; itching immediately ceased; bleeding is stopped; protruding piles and hemorrhoids reduced after a few applications of the Cones when used according to directions, restoring these parts to their healthy condition.

Ridapile Cones remove the cause by killing the germs. The Cones exert a healing and soothing action and a trial brings immediate relief.

Ridapile Cones do not contain OPIUM, MOR-

PHINE, COCAINE, or other NARCOTICS.

Granville, June 21.—Mr. Perry

Wheeler of Alexandria was the victim of a serious accident Saturday evening about 8 o'clock when the team he was driving to an empty hay wagon be-throwing Mr. Wheeler to the ground is known of the occurrence is what was related by an automobile party returning from a drive up the Alex-team near the Loudon street turnout and had just time to pull to the side of the road as the wagon lurched past, a protruding pole striking the then hastened on toward town looking carefully for the driver, whom they found lying in the road in front

HAPPY MESSAGE TO EVANS' DRUG STORE

Nerv-Worth User, Route 2 Granville Says She's Now Wholly Cured.

Some time ago Mrs. Julia Dunaway of Granville, Route 2, wrote a Nerv-Worth endorsement that was printed in these columns. At that time her condition was serious as the result of stubborn nervous disorders. She then wrote that Nerv-Worth seemed to be doing her good.

Now Mrs. Dunaway writes to the Evans drug store as follows: "I have taken about 4 bottles of Nerv-Worth. From the very start I began to feel better. As I wrote you before, I must say Nerv-Worth has cured me and I certainly recommend the medicine."

Some remedies merely relieve. Nerv-Worth often cures as thousands of statements like Mrs. Dunaway's declare. Buy this great Nerve tonic at the Evans Drug store $1 a bottle. Guaranteed.

Plans for the conference were announced today and a call will go immediately to all Christian bodies in America that have appointed unity commissions. The Unity leaders have reported that unofficially many Catholic prelates have expressed hearty sympathy with the Unity plans in principle, and the call will announce that brief addresses will be made by a member of the Roman Catholic church and a member of the Holy Orthodox Eastern Church of Russia.

Bishop Anderson of Chicago will deliver an address of welcome and the formal address will be made by the Rev. Dr. Raymond Calkins, a

The Rev. Dr. Wm. T. Manning of Trinity Episcopal church, New York, who is chairman of the advisory committee, will be present the report on the progress of the world conference ideas. Bishop Boyd Vincent of Cincinnati will be one of the speakers.

The purpose of the conference is to make plans for a world conference with which the European war has interfered.
